WAIVER OF ACCOUNTING (PROBATE CODE § 10954)

The personal representative of the estate (name): _____ has asked for my permission to file a Petition for Final Distribution without providing an accounting. California law requires the personal representative to send me an accounting. That accounting would include a list of all the money that was received by the estate and a list of all money paid from the estate after the decedent's death. If I sign this document, I understand that the personal representative will not be required to send me this information. Instead, the personal representative will provide a list of the money and other property that will be distributed, and may not need to explain why this list is different from what the decedent owned at the time of death.

I am signing this document as trustee of a trust. By signing this document, I also confirm that I have accepted the duties of trustee of the trust.

I am over 18 years of age. I have read this statement and I understand it. I ask that the court waive the requirement for the personal representative to file an accounting.
